

Nantong report

2020 national public service quality rank published

Nantong ranked the 6th in degree of satisfaction

By Wang Weili

A few days ago State Administration for Market Regulation published 2020 national public service quality monitoring condition. Among the 110 cities which were monitored in the state, Nantong ranked the 6th in 2020 national public service quality satisfaction with a score of 82.78.

Public service quality satisfaction is an integrated standard to measure the public service level of a place. In 2020, State Administration for Market Regulation organized third party to carry out national public service quality monitoring. The monitored fields include 12 fields, which are public education, public employment, medical service, social security, public utility, ecological environment, public transport, public security, public culture, public sports, elderly care service and administrative service.

Provincial major projects completed 33.82 billion Yuan investment from January to July

By Zhu Beining

This year major projects building has been promoted and input has been increased actively. From January to July, 30 provincial major projects completed 33.82 billion Yuan investment, which accounts for 76.2% of the annual plan, and exceeded the schedule by 17.9%.

Meanwhile, municipal major projects and over one hundred million industrial projects are traced and promoted in Nantong. In the first half of the year, 303 major industrial projects were started together, the number created a historical record. From January to July, among the first batch of 103 municipal lately started major industrial projects, 88 projects were started, the operation rate reached 85.4% . The accumulated completed investment was 23.62 billion Yuan, which accounts for 60.1% of the annual plan.

33.82 billion Yuan
Investment accounts for 76.2% of the annual plan, and exceeded the schedule by 17.9%

On 19 August morning, ‘Zhenhua 32’ which carried the first batch of container cranes berthed at No.9 berth, section A of Jiangsu Tongzhou new estuary Lvsi Qibu harbour ‘2+2’ port successfully. The 4 container cranes would be transported to the shore as whole machines, which started the alignment joint tests of Lvsi Qibu harbour, and started the work on opening and operation of the harbour by the end of the year. Photo by Pan Yang

Kaisha island is located in the middle of Yangtze River, a fertile land with ample water and grass, with superior ecological environment. It has always been a habitat favoured by birds. In the present Chlidonias hybrida is in breeding season. Countless Chlidonias hybrida are nesting and brooding in the wetland on the island. It is a marvelous scene. They are living harmoniously with a large number of wild birds such as egrets, moorhens, and coots. Photo by Jiang Jianhua

An American volunteer at front line checkpoint of the community

By Chen Ke

On 16 August, it was hot and damp. However, at the checkpoint of block 17, Nanchuan-yuan, Xuettian streets, Chongchuan district, Pakistani American volunteer Atiq wore a mask, carried a thermometer, spoke not very fluent Chinese, measured body temperatures and checked the two codes of passers-by conscientiously.

Atiq who has stayed in Nantong for close to 10 years was a foreign teacher of an education and training institution in Nantong. In late July, there was outbreak of pandemic again, offline class was suspended in the institutes. ‘Free’ at home, Atiq thought that he should do something for his ‘second hometown’ which he loved very much. ‘Then I went to Nanchuan-yuan community, said that I would like to be a volunteer. After some training, I ‘started the work’.

Atiq working at the checkpoint.

‘By voluntary work, I can feel the support in epidemic control and prevention from Nantong citizens, also experience the hardness of community epidemic control and prevention work.’ not long ago, Atiq donated 50 boxes of mineral water to the community.

Jianghai Avenue east extension project major flyover will be joined by the end of the year

By Jiang Jiaojiao

On 16 August, the reporter visited Jianghai Avenue east extension project. The bottom structure of Jianghai Avenue flyover was completed. It has entered the peak stage of upper structure box girder construction. Up to now, half of the box girders have been completed. The main structure is expected to be completed in the end of November. By the end of the year, major flyover will be joined along the full length. By the end of June 2022 it will be completed and open to traffic.

As the major transport artery between downtown area of Nantong and Tongzhou district, Jianghai Avenue east extension project is not only the expressway connecting Tongzhou district and Nantong downtown area, but also the regional expressway with airport collection and distribution function. It will promote the integrated development of Tongzhou district and Nantong downtown area at a large extent.

Workers in construction work

Briefly

4 Nantong players went for Tokyo Paralympic Games

By You Lian

The 16th Tokyo Paralympic Games will be held at Tokyo, Japan from 24 August to 5 September. On 17 August, Chinese sports delegation was established in Beijing. Nantong athletes Gu Xiaofei and Qian Wangwei and coaches Zhang Haidong and Sheng Yuhong are among them. They are expected to win awards and fight for gold medals in weightlifting, bicycle and sitting volleyball events.

The first smart three dimensional parking building in Nantong passed completion acceptance

By Jiang Jiaojiao

On 12 August, the first smart three dimensional parking building in Nantong passed completion acceptance. After the building goes into operation, it will apply 5G technology. By smart parking App, it can provide functions such as mobile car parking and leaving appointment making, intelligent navigation, online payment. The parking building is located to the east of Chongchuan convenient service center. The floor area is about 3323 square meters. It provides 236 parking lots, including 24 charging parking lots for new energy vehicles.